

Order of Presentation in IYPT Final

Status quo

In the IYPT finals the team with the highest TSP gets to present first. If the selection process is valid, which must be assumed as otherwise the whole tournament must be questioned, then it is likely that the strongest report is presented first.

Motion

The order of presentation in the final should be changed so that the strongest team according to the TSP presents their report last. Recent years show, that often the team with the highest TSP also wins the finals, and it will therefore add suspense to the finals if this change is implemented.
